COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The ten day notice was sent on Monday to persons owing their 1957 real estate tax. The notice states that if the tax is not paid within ten days a lien will be recorded at the Register of Deeds against the property. Regardless of the size of the tax the costs are $4.20 for each lien, plus 6% interest figured from date of recording. A separate lien must be recorded against each separately assessed parcel of land.

At the last meeting of the Board of Selectmen it was voted to post a load limit on four different bridges, as follows: North West Bethel Road on Chapman Brook a ten ton limit; small bridge on further side of Grover Hill five ton limit; Rabbit Road on Alder River a five ton limit; bridge on Abe Merrill road five ton limit.

The posting of a load limit on bridge is a protection to the town. If a vehicle should break through a posted bridge, the owner or his insurance carrier, if he is insured, is responsible to the town for the damages. On the other hand the town is not responsible for any damages to the vehicle.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

BACH - NARY

On Sunday, Sept. 14, Miss Sheila Nary was married to Karl F. Bach at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nary, in Falls Church, Va. The Rev. Karl A. Bach of Bridgewater, Mass., father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony.

The wedding took place in the garden beside the pool which was beautiful with blooming water lilies.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white net and lace with a train of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses.

Her attendant, Miss Deborah Fuller of New York City, was gown in pink and had a yellow corsage.

George Crozier of Jamestown, N. Y., was the groom's attendant. The bride was graduated from Gould Academy in 1954 and attended Nassau College in Springfield, Mass., for three years. When her parents moved from Bethel to Virginia she transferred to the Georgetown University Hospital in Washington, D. C., where she will graduate from the X-ray Technicians' Training Course in September of 1959.

Mr. Bach, a first class petty officer with the U. S. Navy Band and a member of the well known "Sea Chanters," is stationed in Washington.

Out-of-town guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Bach of Bridgewater, Mass.; their daughter, Mary, and son, Steven; Mrs. Robert Eckland, another sister of the groom, came from Jamestown, N. Y., with her daughter, Julie; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ames of Baltimore, and other friends from Maryland and Washington.

After the ceremony a reception was held on the spacious porch which was decorated with yellow and white dahlias and greenery.

The young couple are spending their honeymoon motoring in New England. Upon their return they will live in an apartment at 4230 MacArthur Blvd., N. W., Washington 7, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robertson returned home from Watkins, Mass., Monday, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Robertson's father, Guy Phillips.

Mrs. Charles Gorman entertained at a pot luck supper at her camp at Songo Pond Friday evening. Contract was played, first prize going to Mrs. Earl Davis and the consolation to Mrs. Herbert Howe. Others present were Mrs. Lawrence Lord, Mrs. Estelle Goggin, Mrs. Robert Goss, Mrs. Richard Davis, Mrs. Kimball Ames and Mrs. Gorman.

J. Everett Riley of East Stoneham will show pictures of old Maine churches at Garland Chapel on Thursday evening, October 16, in a program sponsored by the Ladies Club. The collection of pictures of old churches and covered bridges is a hobby of Mr. and Mrs. Riley, who have shown the church pictures at the chapel last year and the bridge pictures at the East Bethel Grange Hall.

A School Year Subscription to the Citizen is appreciated by Students away from Home. New to June 1959. ONLY $1.50

Bethel Landmark Moved

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Zallen on its new location at the rear of the Bethel Theatre building on Main Street. The residence of the Sylvester Robertson family more than a hundred years ago, most of the time for some 125 years it has been in the Robertson name. It was purchased by Mr. Zallen in 1940 with the theatre site. Removal of the theatre's interior finish and walls has been going on several weeks in preparation for remodeling as a motel next year.

GEORGE D. DANIELS

George D. Daniels of Yarmouth, formerly of Gilead, died Sunday at a Portland hospital.

He was born in Inckerman, Ont., March 6, 1883, the son of George B. and Melissa Locke Daniels. Coming to this country in 1916, he was for many years station agent at Gilead.

Mr. Daniels served as selectman and member of the school committee in Gilead, and was also a trial justice and representative to the legislature from this district. About 10 years ago he moved to Portland and later to Yarmouth.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Helen C. Daniels, and 14 children, nine by his first marriage. His first wife, Mabel, died in 1939.

The children are G. Cash Barlow, N. H.; Gerald, Fort Knox, Ky.; Douglas, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Capt. Paul, USA, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Harriet Pissett and Mrs. Leah Witter, Gilead; Miss Helen Daniels, Cleveland; Mrs. Dorothy Thurston, Waterbury, Ky.; Mrs. Frances Judkins, Rangeley; James D., Judith A., Cynthia L., Cheryl H. and Sarah I., all of Yarmouth. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. T. J. Malloy, Inckerman, Ont.

MRS. AMY LYON

Mrs. Amy B. Lyon of Rumford Center, widow of the late Herbert P. Lyon, and for many years town clerk and treasurer of Rumford, died Monday night at her home. Illness had forced her retirement from public office in January of this year.

She was born at East Bethel, May 19, 1886, the daughter of Henry E. and Lizzie Coburn Bartlett. A graduate of Gould Academy and Gordan Normal School she taught grade school in Rumford prior to becoming town treasurer and clerk in 1922. She held these positions until her retirement in January. Her home was many friends for the town and she was ever ready to be of service to out of state sportsmen seeking licenses after hours.

She was a member of the Universalist Church, and of the Oxford-Eaton Relief Corps. She leaves two daughters, Miss Mary A. Lyon of Rumford Center, and Mrs. Emily Lynn Bean of Rumford; two sons, Herbert P. and Henry B., both of Rumford; two sisters, Mrs. Elsie B. Lyon, and Mrs. Elanthe Goss, both of Arlington, Mass., and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this Thursday afternoon at the Meador and Son funeral home. Rev. Donald Mackley officiated. Burial was at the Rumford Center cemetery.

Several cans of pure Maine apples were among the door prizes awarded Tuesday night in New York City at a New England dinner of the Overseas Press Club of America. Provided by the sponsoring New England Council, a regional economic development agency in Boston, the cans are packed by Indigenous Enterprises in Rockport and have been sold to visitors for 25 cents each. The label read "Packed for Gullible Customers by Shrewd Vendors."

WILLIAM CHAPMAN EXPLAINS SOIL BANK PROGRAM

Farmers in Oxford County who want to scale down their farming operations have an opportunity to do so by putting part or all of their cropland in the 1959 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank, according to Chairman William C. Chapman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The Chairman pointed out that by taking advantage of the program, farmers could: (1) Reduce costs for equipment, seed, fertilizer, insecticides, or other cash outlays necessary in farming operations; (2) reduce the need for extra labor; and (3) reduce the hazards of uncertain markets and prices for farm commodities.

When cropland is put in the Conservation Reserve, it is taken out of production and put to conservation uses. Mr. Chapman said, "Cost-share payments are made to farmers to help with the establishment of the conservation practices and annual per-acre rental payments are made on the land for the duration of the contract. This is assured income from the land for the life of the contract regardless of weather, crop diseases, insect pests, variations in market price or other farming hazards."

Chairman Chapman emphasized that annual payment rates for land put in the program are higher than if all eligible land on a farm is put in the Conservation Reserve. Generally he said, this available extra payment is 40 percent above the regular annual payment rate for land in the farm. Even when all of the eligible land on a farm is put in the program the farm family can continue to live on the place and grow a home garden or use any part of the farm not in the "reserve."

Any farmer can participate in the Conservation Reserve if he has cropland which is regularly used for cultivated crops or tame hay.

BETHEL PARENT TEACHERS START YEAR TUESDAY

Bethel P.T.A. held its first meeting at Crescent Park School Sept. 16 with 85 enthusiastic parents and friends in attendance. President Edith Eyyper presided at the meeting.

The skating rink project is going to be finished this year by a committee of fathers with Henry Robertson, chairman.

There was a lengthy discussion as to what project to sponsor this year to raise money. The Springfield College gym team cannot come this way. It was voted to have a committee discuss whether to have another basketball game.

The following additional committees were announced by the President: Halloween Party, Monique and Harold Rolfe; Programs, Carolyn Brooks, Barbara Lucas and Barbara Douglas; Project chairman, Dick Waldron.

The third grade won the attendance banner. The door prize was won by Mrs. Jacobs and donated by Barbara Brown. Refreshments were served by the eighth grade mothers.

The President has called an important executive meeting to be held at Betty Tobbet's on Sept. 25. This is for all committee members.

Before the meeting, Ann Gordon from the State Department of Education spoke on the importance of progressing the reading ability of the child, smaller classrooms, extra help with trained supervisors, and in general to help and keep each child in the class level where it is adapted to his ability. It is very important to keep the classes so they will be a challenge for each pupil to want to do better work.

JAMES D. FARNUM James Day Farnum, formerly of Bryant Pond, died at the St. Louis Hospital, Berlin, N. H., Tuesday morning, Sept. 9, after a short illness.

He was born Sept. 18, 1879, at Bryant Pond, the son of James H. and Emogene Day Farnum. He was a member of the Bryant Pond Universalist Church. He was employed as a spool maker and lived at Bryant Pond most of his life until his retirement about ten years ago. Since that time he has made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Philbrick of Berlin, but has been with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas Bristol, Conn., for several winters. He is survived by the two daughters: Mrs. Thelma Philbrick, Berlin, N. H., and Mrs. Iona Douglas, Bristol, Conn.; by a nephew, Homer Farnum, who lived in his family after his parents' death; by a brother, Hugh Farnum and two sisters, Mrs. Carl C. Dudley, Bryant Pond and Mrs. Omah Lord, Waterville and by three grandchildren.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at the Baptist Church, with the Congregationalist pastor of Berlin officiating, following prayers held at 1 o'clock from his late home in Berlin. Burial was in Laurel Cemetery, Bryant Pond.

The active brothers were George Wheeler, Russell McAllister, Harold Dunlap, James Billings, Stanley Farnum and James Farnum. Honorary brothers were Robert McKeon Sr., Daniel Bryant, Lester Bryant and Rupert Hathaway.

Mrs. Ruth Hall has returned to Portland after spending two weeks vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall.

EDITORIAL

It was stated recently in a widely read weekly newsmagazine that more than two million students in schools and colleges are over 45 years of age. The figures were from statistics from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington and presumably indicate the trend of older and retired people seeking more complete education.

To quote the survey 1,915,000 are between the ages of 45 and 59, 465,000 are 60 to 74 years old, and 10,000 are 75 or older.

It was noted that these figures are growing each year. Some of the older students are definitely after a high school diploma or a college degree while many more are facing retirement with plenty of spare time and perhaps a feeling that they missed something in their school days.

Achievement of higher education is always preferable, and certainly such ambitions should not be discouraged. However, at a time when the country as a whole is struggling to meet the needs of young people, it would seem to be unfair for an older generation to appropriate the spots of these presently fitted to take up their higher education.

The older folks who feel that they have definite need for education to specific lines of course should not suffer from this criticism, but as a fact or to make up for a lost youth's education it may approach the old procedure of taking candy away from a baby.

We may well bear in mind that the fullest education need not be received in classrooms, and it never has been. The process of education is never-ending. "Formal" education in most cases should be more readily available for those already in time for it, while now as never before it is possible for all who wish to reach their school days of their later school days in other ways.

DRIVE RELIGIOUSLY

Recently it was reported in the news that Pope Pius XII, at an audience in Rome for two hundred and seventy million preachers who were to go out as special evangelists, urged that they bring to the attention of their hearers the wickedness and sin of reckless driving. He spoke of the high rates of "automobile accidents" throughout the world. He went on to point out that not only is there "automobile murder" but also "automobile suicide" for in most cases, someone other than the driver is killed. To take one's own life is serious enough, but to involve the lives of others compounds the guilt.

There is certainly a needed emphasis on the fact that a group of teenagers, participating on Saturday night, ran off the road near our Salvation Army camp, and four of them were killed. To understand the meaning of a tragedy like this, one should not go to look at the wreckage of the car as many did. He should go to talk with the families of those left behind.

We should pause upon the dark road of every automobile a sign bearing the words "Thou shalt not kill."

One of the strange facts about our modern civilization is that so many people, who are honorable and kind and generous, undergo a complete transformation when they are behind the wheel of an automobile.

We must learn to drive religiously. For it is truly a "life and death matter."

STATE TO BUILD THREE BRIDGES IN COUNTY

The State Highway Commission will open bids Sept. 24 for two highway projects. Two Interstate projects and three bridges. Outside of Oxford County the projects are in Cheshire, Windham, York, and Washington.

There are three projects in Oxford County one of which, a bridge and one mile bituminous road and in Frye, a contract has been awarded to W. W. Quaker of Gray for $118,766.25.

Calls scheduled for Sept. 24 will be on the following:

In Frye, Frye Bridge, a connecting link between Routes 126 and 17 will be built over the North Frye River and for a three span steel and concrete structure. The first long with a 30 foot roadway. The second will be improved by 12 ft. on the new bridge south of the 120 ft. structure. The total length of the project is 1.5 miles. Estimated cost $118,766.25.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Sept. 10, 1958

Dear Taxpayer,

Early last fall several of the P. T. A. members met to discuss the reading problem in the Bethel School. Through that meeting a reading plan was adopted and is now in use.

Another problem just touched on that day, was the urgent need of help for the slow-learning child.

The purpose of this letter is to start that ball rolling.

I wouldn't dare say how many of these children there are, but I know there are enough to make it a definite problem that needs urgent immediate attention, or it will be too late to help a good many of them.

They are the children that just getting ahead from one room to the next, because with classrooms already crowded, a teacher just can't spend time on a child that can't learn under normal conditions.

My hopes are that the P.T.A. will get control and with the cooperation of all concerned, do as well with this as they did the reading plan.

I do not know any of the technicalities how expensive it will be, or I do know that it is recommended that they not have more than 10 pupils per class and that they need specially trained teachers.

We the taxpayers are already squawking about high taxes and I squawk as loud as the rest, but I would certainly rather pay taxes to help these children get the education they need right in the Bethel School system rather than help pay their board at Bowdoin, Thompson or the Augusta State Hospital. That is where some of them will end up if they are not at least taught to read, write and simple arithmetic and social graces.

I feel we have two choices:

(1) Help them now.

(2) Help them later when they will not know how to support themselves.

Special teachers and class-rooms have been tried in other towns in Maine and it has proved very successful. I understand.

Seeing in believing in some people as I believe you, without the teachers' permission, to visit each class room. You can spot most of them. The teacher will not have to put them out to you.

If I were the parent of one of these children and Bethel wouldn't do anything to help these children, I would pull up stakes and move to a town that considered these children human beings. Instead of pieces of furniture to be placed in one primary and each year transferred to a different room until they get to the 8th grade room and then moved out into the world to be picked around cooking up in a home for the feeble minded or a juvenile delinquent, causing more heartaches to their families who were under the impression they were human beings in the first place.

Please re-read this and even though it may not be properly written, give it some serious thought and find out more technicalities so that when the P.T.A. starts working on it, as I'm sure they will, you all can get behind and push.

Thank you for reading this.

GOULD ALUMNUS SENDS MESSAGE TO CLASSMATES

OF TURN OF CENTURY

The following letter was received too late to be read at the reunion of the Turn of the Century Club of the Gould Academy alumni on August twenty-fourth. It is thought that it may be of interest to our readers who will recall the Holmes family of eight boys, all of whom attended Gould at some time during the years, 1898-1902. Five of the number were graduated from Gould.

August 19, 1958

Dear Fellow Alumni,

I do not feel this old, do you? Time is measured by mirror but not feelings. I am amazed that I look this way when I feel the same as I did half a hundred years and more ago. Nature might have balanced the scales by letting us look old when we are young and compensated by letting us look young when we are old. Come to think of it, I WAS born that way with little hair and all of it white!

Such are the confusions of memory. But, frankly I am not so very old, though I was the oldest in the class and doubtless remain the same. I can still see, hear and enjoy touch and smell. Taste is different. I do not get as much fun out of it as I did as a boy. Work still pursues me. I used to pursue it. Sometimes we run neck and neck.

I lectured for forty years all over this country and Canada and somewhat in England, but now speak only once a week to keep my mouth in the rest of the time. I write and seldom miss a day. I am a free lance writer and have written twenty books or more. At present I am writing an Epitome in verse with my brother Ernest. We have over three hundred pages done on the evolution of the philosophy of religion and metaphysics. It sounds as though we might be dull, but excerpts read here and there have aroused much interest. It will be published probably next fall. No doubt it will be in your libraries and you can look it over—possibly even read it for old times sake.

I still have that hunger for old schoolmates, and melancholy for those who have preceded us to the other shore, especially "Gee" How much love means to us even in retrospect. It would be for this only that I could be persuaded to live life over.

But I do wish I might be with you today and hear from your own lips what life has done for you and what you did for it.

I am however sending you my love and blessing, which I do now. Your class mate of 1902... and after that, your schoolmate of the passing years.

Yours truly, L. Holmes

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Revelation 14:1-7

God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth. (John 4:24)

ONLY human beings practice worship, for the longing of the spirit toward the Supreme Being is characteristic of them only. Worship is the breath of man's soul and his most valuable prerogative.

This worship is practiced both by the individuals in solitude and by the group in a communal service. Whatever the methods of worship may be, God alone must be the center of worship, for He alone is worthy of our praise and adoration.

God abides forever. Whatever we do, to it beauty or ambition, possessions or friends, these, like the heavenly bodies, set and disappear. God remains. Jesus, the son of God, remains, for He is the same yesterday, today, and forever. In Him we find redemption from our sins. In the Holy Spirit's abiding presence we have a faithful guide.

PRAYER: Almighty God, cleanse the thoughts of our hearts. May we continually worship Thee and perfectly love Thee through Jesus Christ our Lord, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in Heaven. . . . Amen."

Thought for the Day
Let us worship God in spirit and in truth.

I. Matar (Lebanon)

COUNTRY FLAVOR

SEPTEMBER

When September steps over the threshold, a change comes over the land. There is a nip in the air at dawn. When day is done and light fades from the western sky, one can feel the sharp edge of the breeze pushing in from the northwest.

September is the month of color and fragrance. Goldenrod lifts its spires beside the roads and the blue of the asters matches the blue of the ninth month sky. Joe Pye weed holds purple flags and blue vervain spreads colorful patches in open fields. Down by the roadside, cattails' heads are ochre-brown cylinders; and in field corners, wine-red conical of the sunnys are bright on sunny occasions. As soon as the first frost draws a cold breath across the landscape, poison ivy will become bright red quills on walls and fences.

There are good smells in the air in September. On a brisk morning as the sun pulls into the sky, one can smell maturing apples and the heady pungency of warming soil. As evening comes the sun-drenched grasses on upland meadows, there is a pleasant spicy scent from earth's moist numerous herbs. When a man walks his acre on a mellow, sun-blessed September afternoon, the tangy fragrance of trawled grapes is perfume in the air.

September is the beginning of autumn. After the soldier one knows that time is beginning its downward slide in the north. But there are those who will maintain the church?

Why are as many of us there as those who will maintain the church?

Why are as many of us there as those who will maintain the church?

Why are as many of us there as those who will maintain the church?

Why are as many of us there as those who will maintain the church?

CUB SCOUTS

Den 1—Monday we had an outdoor meeting. Andy Inman and Phillip Fields are new to come in our den. We had refreshments and worked on our projects for the meeting. Then we studied the flag. Keeper of the Buckskin, Jack Brooks.

Den 2 opened with the song of America. Then had cookies and punch for refreshments brought by Robert Saunders. Then had dinner. Albert Lake clean up the refreshments. Den 2 played in the barn of Diode Faine, ended with the living circle—Keeper of the Buckskin, Lucius Faine.

We cannot regulate time, each must travel his destined years. But he who will can take each season as it comes and from it gain wisdom for the seasons ahead.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

Over 5,000,000 World War II and Korean Conflict veterans who hold GI life insurance may now attach a new type of total disability income provision to their policies in return for a small additional premium cost.

Under a recent new law, VA explained, policyholders who become totally disabled from any cause before age 60 and while the new rider is in effect, will receive an income of $10 per month for each $1,000 face amount of the GI policy. Previous maximum was $5 per month.

Payments under the clause begin after the total disability has existed for six consecutive months, and continue for the duration of the disability, regardless of its length, VA said.

No payment may be made for disability incurred after age 60, and no premium charge is made for this benefit after that date.

If the veteran is in good health and under 63, the rider may be added to any National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policy, except for a limited number sold to service-disabled veterans since April, 1951, VA said.

Of the 5,650,000 holders of eligible NSLI policies, the agency estimated that at least 5,000,000 could qualify for the rider. There are currently 85,500 veterans who have the old $5 rider attached to their policies. Those who meet the requirements may increase their coverage to the new $10 limit for a very small boost over what they are now paying in added premiums.

Of the 5,650,000 holders of eligible NSLI policies, the agency estimated that at least 5,000,000 could qualify for the rider. There are currently 85,500 veterans who have the old $5 rider attached to their policies. Those who meet the requirements may increase their coverage to the new $10 limit for a very small boost over what they are now paying in added premiums.

Under a recent new law, VA explained, policyholders who become totally disabled from any cause before age 60 and while the new rider is in effect, will receive an income of $10 per month for each $1,000 face amount of the GI policy. Previous maximum was $5 per month.

Payments under the clause begin after the total disability has existed for six consecutive months, and continue for the duration of the disability, regardless of its length, VA said.

No payment may be made for disability incurred after age 60, and no premium charge is made for this benefit after that date.

If the veteran is in good health and under 63, the rider may be added to any National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policy, except for a limited number sold to service-disabled veterans since April, 1951, VA said.

PUBLIC DANCES TO START THIS SATURDAY IN LIV. FALLS

This Saturday, Sept. 20, will mark the beginning of public dances in Livermore Falls. The dances will run every Saturday night from 8:30 to midnight in Murray Hall. Bill Zimmerman and his fourteen-piece dance orchestra will furnish music. The orchestra includes five saxons, five brass, and four rhythm. The vocals will be handled by the leader. The orchestra will play music appealing to young and old alike, including: rock and roll; old standards; arrangements by Glenn Miller, Harry James, Duke Ellington, Tommy Dorsey; and square dances if requested. Furthermore, the orchestra will play any type of music or particular collection requested.

Bill Zimmerman has played in various orchestras throughout New England and the South, and is, at present, Supervisor of Music in Livermore Falls.

BETHEL P.T.A. ANNOUNCES MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The membership committee of the Bethel Parent Teacher Association have started their campaign for the drive that will be held the last two weeks in October.

The students of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are making posters, which will be placed in strategic places around town. One will go to Hanover to be in Howe's Store to give the Hanover children attending C.P.S. a boost at selling the P.T.A. tickets.

East Bethel, South Bethel and West Bethel children with the assistance of their teachers will make posters also to be placed in their neighborhood.

Each room selling tickets will make a thermometer to show them how the membership is increasing day by day.

The child selling the most tickets in each school building, including East, West and South Bethel, will receive a silver dollar. So when someone knocks on your door around Oct. 20, help that child out and you will be helping to build a bigger and better P. T. A. in your community.

The P.T.A. has big plans for this year and we need the backing of every parent, teacher, citizen, taxpayer and school committee member, and last but not least the principals and superintendent of schools.

Get with it now, folks! Join the P. T. A.!

Grandparents, aunts and uncles, and friends are cordially invited to join, donate to, and attend P.T.A.

"Do you realize what you might have done?"

This man didn't know he was speeding. He didn't see that stop sign he passed! Last year, nearly 40,000 died in traffic accidents. In too many of these cases, the drivers who caused them didn't realize they were at fault, -until too late. Suppose the officer hadn't stopped this driver in time!

Help stop senseless killing on our highways. Drive safely yourself. Insist on strict law enforcement for your own protection. Work actively with others to support your local Safety Council. Remember—where traffic laws are strictly enforced, deaths go down.

"A Diller, A Dollar..."

SUMMER'S END and the start of another school year is a time of mixed emotions for youngsters. Caught in these photos are two quite different yet typical reactions. An "old hand" at cracking the books (left) frowns dejectedly. To him, school is only a confinement. To the totis receiving last minute instructions from mother (below), however, school is an awesome adventure—their first "away from home."

WHETHER THEY ARE happy about school or not, if you drive you have a responsibility to see children arrive there safely. Watch for signs like this one. Slow down as you approach, ready to stop.

STAY ALERT DRIVING near school buses. Be prepared to stop quickly. More buses like this international are taking to the road now, because more children are attending school than before.

NEW BOOKS AT THE BETHEL LIBRARY

Adults:

"The Portuguese Escape," by Ann Bridge. Though gay and lively, "The Portuguese Escape" penetrates deeply into the life of another country and gives a revealing account of the impact of western life and behavior on a highly intelligent observer from "the other side."

"The White Room," by Elizabeth Watersworth. Another of Miss Watersworth's "Incredible Tales," this told against a Maine coast background, "Mamma's Boarding House," by John D. Fitzgerald. More reminiscences by the author of "Papa Married a Mormon" continue the narrative from Mamma's decision to open a boarding house after Papa's death to the flash flood that wiped out the Utah community which is the setting for these anecdotes.

"Inside Russia Today," by John Guther.

"Around the World with Auntie Mame," by Patrick Dennis. A sequel to Auntie Mame.

Reader's Digest Condensed Books, Vol. 2, 1958.

Crime:

"Depart this Life," E. K. Ferrars.

"Sitting Up Dead," by Marc Stein.

"Black Mail," by Doris Disney.

"Servant's Problem," by Veronica Johns.

Young People:

"Head High, Ellen Brody," by Elizabeth Frierwood. A spirited, ambitious seventeen-year-old relinquishes her dream of fashion-designing career for community service in Indiana Milkown settlement house.

"Rakna," by Emma Boothe. This story tells of old and new in Africa. It is a truthful and sympathetic portrayal of a heart of a girl in a changing world.

"Behind the Zuni Masks," by Val Gordon. Engrossing, moving, eloquently written, built around real life Colorado Boy Scouts; authentic anthropological research.

"Gow Far, Sew Good," by Peggy Hoffman. An author gives clear, concise, practical counsel on how to dress becomingly, economically; instructions on how to sew efficiently; information on fabrics.

Children:

"The Owl," by Mary Huff. A dramatic account of desert life.

"Pit Pony," by Nina Danning. An exciting story of a little boy and his love for the pony that worked for him in the coal mines of Wales.

"Upside-Down Town," by F. Emerson Andrews. Rickie and Anne's adventures in Upside-Down Town, where school comes week ends and stores have no windows, tell and catch the imagination of children and adults alike but also give children mind-stretching ideas for their own activities.

"Deep Treasure," by Elizabeth Wiley. In which the story of oil is told in an authentically described manner.

"Mama's Problem," by Eunice Mal.

Only the engaging story of a young Indian girl in today's South-West.

"The Mollies Strike Oil," by Toni Langer. This colorful pig family's latest adventures are enhanced by

This Home Borrows Charm From Historic Colonial Era

Bringing the enchantment of authentic American Colonial design into the mid-20th Century, this spacious home is exuding from the outside as well as the inside. It has today's long, low silhouette, its designer, Don Scholz, retains the complete charm of this country's authentic Colonial past.

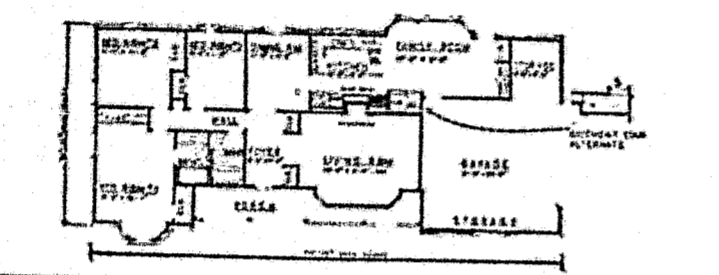

Interior features are led by an oversized master bedroom with its own bath, wardrobe type closet, flush mahogany sliding doors, extravagantly enhanced by a gracious bay window. Two other oversized bedrooms are served by a large main bath off the hall.

The impressive, wainscoted foyer and dining room impart comfortable, Colonial reality. Sensibly too, the foyer boasts two guest closets.

The living room has a large bay window beneath the deep roof overhang, making the room as charming at night as by day. Real woodburning fireplace provides a focal point wall in both the family and living rooms.

The family room, too, has a large bay window overlooking the patio to the rear. A favorite gathering spot, the family room is separated from the kitchen by a convenient snack bar.

For further detailed information regarding this charming home, write: Don Scholz Design Associates, Dept. 110, 201 Westwood, Toledo 7, Ohio.

FROM OUR FILES

18 YEARS AGO

On Sept. 18, 1935, the State of Maine was celebrating its 100th anniversary. The day was marked by a series of events throughout the state.

At the State Capitol in Augusta, a large gathering of people gathered to celebrate the occasion. The day was filled with music, dancing, and other festive activities.

HOW TO DRIVE

A tip from the AAA's driving guide for adults.

WATCH FOR INDIAN SIGNS

The best drivers develop a high degree of traffic imagination and foresight. They think ahead and try to spot an accident-producing situation before it develops into an emergency. For example, when a really good driver sees children playing near the street he reads himself in case one of them dashes into the roadway. He doesn't assume that all children will stay on the sidewalk just because they are supposed to do that. If one of the youngsters does run into the street, the good driver will be able to react quickly because he's prepared for trouble.

You'll be a better driver and be better able to protect yourself if you learn to avoid trouble by recognizing trouble-in-the-making.

BETHEL AND VICINITY

Those from here attending the fall convocation of Kora Temple, Lewiston, Friday, were Donald Brooks, Dana Brooks, Wilfred Barker, Charles Chapin, Leon Wilson, Dr. John Townsend, Henry Hastings, Wallace Saunders, Frederick McMillin, Preston Robertson, Charles Reukle, and Eugene Van den Bergh.

HEAVEN FORBID

From my front porch
By CARL HELM

I haven't lived with a dog long enough yet to discover why in taxation they have to dig holes. It's understandable when they have a bone that heredity impels them to bury against a rainy day (and the rainier the day, as our backyard attests, the deeper the holes!)

But, bones or no bones, my little spotted collie-terrier scolded driven by some mysterious instinct to dig holes for the sheer delight (or heck) of it, with nothing to bury but his inquisitive snout.

By the way, has any old hand with dogs ever taught one to so dig one hole that the dirt he excavates will fill up the hole just behind him?

SOIL BANK DEADLINE SET FOR OCTOBER 10

Maine farmers who want to put land into the 1953 Conservation Reserve of the Soil Bank must sign up by October 10. Three important changes are in effect for the program this year. First, there's an increase in the average annual payment for Conservation Reserve land in Maine to $12 an acre from the previous average of $9. Secondly, there are additional incentives, including a payment of 10 per cent above normal rates for farmers who put all their eligible land into the Reserve for at least 5 years. Thirdly, a priority system for accepting contract applications is in effect. Preference will be given farmers offering land at lowest rates compared with the maximum rates for their farms. Maine farmers are urged to go to their county ASC (Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation) offices for further information on the Soil Bank.

Miss Margaret May Noyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Noyes of Norway, formerly of Bethel, whose engagement to Raymond Haines of Norway has been announced.
